THE OBSERVATOR.

Emperor's Illneſs, the Death of the Dauphin, the Turkiſh War, and the Affairs of Eu-, which ſeem to be drawing to a general Criſis. The High-Church of Rome, Mahometans, Arbitrary Proteſtants, in a Conſpiracy againſt true Religion and Liberty. What may proba-be the Event. On the Diſappointment and new Contempt pour'd upon our Arch-Incendiary his Abettors, with relation to the Bank, Eaſt India Company, &c. A Caveat to the Ma-ates of London to watch the Motions of the Club, ſummon'd together by Abel againſt the Inſtant.

From Saturday, April 14. to Wedneſday, April 18. 1711.

THE face of Affairs looks very cloudily, Maſter, all over Chriſtendom, ſo that things ſeem to draw to a general Criſis: The n of France is dead; the Emperor ill; y, Poland and Muſcovy are threaten'd with War, which may probably communicate its to the Empire; the Succeſſion of Spain is verted, and if the Emperor die, which God King Charles will loſe the Aſſiſtance of a d potent Brother, whoſe Succeſſion may obably call him from Spain, which will give Competitor for that Crown a mighty Advan- and I am afraid may occaſion a general Diſ- in the Affairs of Europe, there being no the Romans elected; and we may be ſure ch King will fiſh in thoſe troubled Wa But what more particularly affects me, is prehenſion, that if the Houſe of Bourbon et poſſeſſion of the Spaniſh Monarchy and Indies, they will become too formidable ong for all the reſt of Europe, and may at enabled to impoſe the Pretender upon us. give me your Opinion of theſe things, .

I am none of thoſe who pretend to a Spi- Prophecy, Roger, I leave others to boaſt of Qualifications that way; but this we are ſure t God governs the World, and his Coun- ll ſtand, tho all the Great Ones of the ſhould unite againſt them. The Nations of are very ſinful, and have reaſon to expect ents; but God can build up Sion in trou- times, and will preſerve primitive and un- ted Chriſtianity. We hope the Time is ching, when he will inlarge its Boundaries, alone knows what Judgments and Shakings ceſſary in the World to make way for it, reſtore true Piety and Love among Chriſ- f all Denominations upon a Scripture-Foun- ; for as he never laid any other to be the of Catholick Communion, he will conſume t Hay and Stubble which Men have built t, and ſeems now, in his Providence, to be the furious Zealots for human Inventions Worſhip ſet fire to them with their own by the odious bigotted and tyrannical Me- they take to ſupport them.

Burym. Pray explain your ſelf, Maſter, for ountry-Folks don't underſtand much Divini- or do I know how we ſhould, when ſo many teach Faction and Party inſtead of Reli- And as the Phariſaical Jews did of old cry The Temple of the Lord! The Temple of the when they neither valu'd God nor his Tem- t as it ſerv'd for a Cloke to their Malice our Saviour, who was David's true Suc-ceſſor; ſo thoſe Men cry out, The Church! The Church! when their Practice makes it evident they have no regard to Chriſtianity.

Obſ. The thing ſpeaks of it ſelf, Roger. You ſee the High-Church of Rome has been the French King's Tools to embroil all Europe, and to countenance his Uſurpation of the Spaniſh Throne, contrary to the moſt ſolemn Oaths and Treatys that ever were made. This muſt needs in time make the Princes of the Earth learn Wiſdom, and when they come to inquire into the Pretenſions of that Church to diſpoſe of Crowns and Kingdoms, and find they are falſe, 'tis probable it may inſpire them with ſo much Hatred againſt that Harlot, as to make them hate her, and burn her Fleſh with Fire, as 'tis foretold they ſhall. 'Tis obſervable, that as the Mahometan Impoſture took its Riſe in Arabia, much about the time when the Pope laid Claim to the Title of Univerſal Biſhop, the High-Church of Rome and the Mahometans are now join'd in a Conſpiracy to kindle new Flames in Europe; and tho with different Views, yet in order to carry on the ſame Antichriſtian Deſign againſt true Religion and the Liberties of Mankind. 'Tis alſo very remarkable, that not only Papiſts, but many of thoſe call'd Proteſtants, are eagerly purſuing the ſame end, tho under different Pretexts. We ſee an arbitrary Proteſtant Prince joining with Turks and Tartars in the Eaſt, and ſolliciting them againſt Chriſtendom at the ſame time, while the French King is aiming to eſtabliſh Popery and Tyranny in the Weſt. We have thoſe among our ſelves, who are ſetting up the like Arbitrary and Popiſh Principles with equal Fury in favour of the Pretender, and of an Union with the Church of Rome; while at the ſame time they load their Fellow-Proteſtants, who are againſt thoſe Meaſures, with all the Reproach and Obloquy they can. Now, Roger, tho the Clouds be very black and thick, and threaten us with dreadful Hurricanes and Tempeſts, that may prove fatal to Thouſands, and perhaps to Millions; yet we have reaſon to think, that when the Storm has ſpent it ſelf, the Sky will clear, and make the Principles of Tyranny, Perſecution, and human Inventions in Religion ſo odious, that Men will recover their Senſes, and not only abhor thoſe bloody Principles, but their Abettors, and univerſally riſe up againſt thoſe who have always threaten'd the World with univerſal Deſtruction. Then we ſhall have Rulers as at the firſt, and Judges as at the beginning; Magiſtrates will purſue the true end of their Office, which is, to be a Terror to evil Works, and a Praiſe to thoſe that do well; and Chriſtianity will ſhine in its native Luſtre, according to the Precepts of our Saviour and his Apoſtles, without the Adulteration of the Traditions ditions and Inventions of Men. We have ground to believe from Scripture, Roger, that all the Commotions which threaten the World, will iſſue in this at laſt; tho God knows who ſhall live to ſee it.

Countrym. That's a comfortable View, Maſter; and ſince we are ſure God governs, 'tis enough to make all true Chriſtians eaſy in their own minds, provided at the ſame time they do their Duty, and make uſe of the Means God has put into their hands for preſerving true Religion and Liberty; thoſe valuable Bleſſings which Chriſt has purchas'd with his Blood, to make us happy in this Life, and that which is to come. I am likewiſe very well ſatisfy'd, Maſter, that the Men of Arbitrary Principles and reſtleſs Paſſions will make themſelves every day more and more odious. 'Tis evident they purſue the ſame Meaſures with the Pope and the Turk, tho on different pretences: And I am glad the Eyes of this great City are ſo far open'd, as that they have carry'd the Officers of our Artillery, the Governors and Directors of the Bank and Eaſt-India Company, and an Alderman, againſt the Endeavours of ſome whom by experience we know to be Enemies of our Peace.

Obſ. It looks with a promiſing aſpect, Roger, that God in his Providence has pour'd a freſh Contempt upon one who is under the Cenſure of the Nation, as a publick Incendiary, an Enemy to the Revolution, the Toleration, her Majeſty's Adminiſtration in Church and State, and has fomented deſtructive Diviſions, and excited and ſtir'd up the Subjects to Arms and Violence: it looks well, that his new Endeavours have turn'd to his own diſgrace, and to the diſappointment of his Party. 'Tis not without a ſpecial Diſpenſation, that he ſhould be ſo far left to himſelf as to incur a new Odium, and to give a further diſcovery of his reſtleſs Paſſions to imbroil us, by officiouſly meddling in ſuch a manner with things that, however they may ſute his perſonal Character, do no ways belong to his publick Profeſſion: That ſhould teach him to have his Converſation in Heaven, and not to meddle in Banks, Companies, Elections and Matters of Mony, in ſuch an indecent and tumultuous manner. Therefore, Roger, I can't but admire the Juſtice of Heaven, in giving him ſuch another publick Rebuke; which reflects not only upon himſelf, but upon his Abettors.

Countrym. I think, Maſter, ſince this Nation and City have paid ſo dear for the Madneſs of that Incendiary, the Magiſtrates of London are concern'd to have a watchful eye on ſuch Clubs of Abel's true Sons of the Church, as he has invited to an Entertainment at Stationers-Hall on the 23d inſtant, being St. George's Day. We have ſmarted enough already by Sacheverellite Routs, to take care that they commit no new Diſorders when heated with Faction and Wine; eſpecially ſince repeated Notice is ſo publickly given before-hand, to ſummon People together under ſuch invidious Diſtinctions. We know what Tumults the factious Mob committed on pretence of rejoicing for the London Election, upon the 14th of October, the Birth-day of the late King James; when they run about ſtreets, crying, High-Church! A new Revolution! and other ſeditious words; ſtop'd Coaches, knock'd down all they met, that would not cry as they did, erected Bonefires, broke the Citizens Windows, beat off the Conſtables with Firebrands that came to diſperſe them; and continu'd their Rebellious Tumults on the Sunday Morning. Now, Maſter, ſince we have ſo many double-minded Men among us, we don't know what double Entendres ſome People [illegible] in ſummoning Men together under ſuch [illegible] tions to Entertainments on that day [illegible] City; and as Jacobites and Papiſts [illegible] the Sacheverellite Mobs on former [illegible] may as well do it on this, out of [illegible] Chevalier, who bears the name of that [illegible] Saint. They may perhaps give us new [illegible] their Chivalry, under the Conduct of [illegible] marées or Purchaſes: Therefore, Maſter, [illegible] our Magiſtrates will be upon their guard.

Obſ. I take it to be a neceſſary Caution, [illegible] and hope they will. We know that in [illegible] Reigns the ſummoning of People together [illegible] ſuch diſtinctions, would have been look'd [illegible] mutinous and riotous, when the peaceable [illegible] ings of the Citizens at Guildhall to chuſe [illegible] Magiſtrates, were puniſh'd as ſuch. To [illegible] every Loyal Subject will readily teſtify [illegible] ſpect to her Majeſty on her Coronation-Day; [illegible] it does not follow that People ought there [illegible] be ſummon'd together by ſuch Badges of [illegible] tion, as ſerve for nothing but to create [illegible] and inflame our Diviſions.

Countrym. You han't given me your [illegible] Maſter, about the Dauphin's Death, and [illegible] fluence it may have on publick Affairs.

Obſ. Future Events are in the hand of [illegible] Roger, therefore we ſhort-ſighted Mortals [illegible] preſume too far. However, as the Dauphin [illegible] known to be a zealous Abetter of the Pr[illegible] and for continuing the War till his own [illegible] Duke of Anjou be eſtabliſh'd on the Th[illegible] Spain, which he has uſurp'd; we ought [illegible] to think his Death will be to the advantage [illegible] Confederates than otherwiſe. Fratrum [illegible] Gratia rara eſt; i. e. That a true Friend[illegible] twixt Brothers is not very common, is an [illegible] a true Obſervation, eſpecially betwixt [illegible] of the French Blood Royal. So that we [illegible] reaſon to think the Duke of Burgundy, [illegible] now the Riſing Sun of France, will have a [illegible] Regard to his Brother that his Father had [illegible] be for risking the Safety of France too much [illegible] Brother, whoſe Poſterity may become a [illegible] Spaniards as if they were originally of that [illegible] try. The Poſſeſſors of contiguous Kingdoms [illegible] Dominions are always jealous of one another [illegible] and the Duke of Burgundy being a Prince [illegible] active and aſpiring Genius, may perhaps [illegible] ſo willing to part with what he calls his [illegible] right as his Father was. This I own is a [illegible] Conjecture, but not very improbable; and [illegible] unlike, that God in the Courſe of his Providence [illegible] may raiſe ſuch a fire in the Houſe of Bourbon [illegible] which has ſet all Europe in flames, as will [illegible] it ſelf. God will early or late puniſh Treachery, [illegible] Perſecution, and Breach of ſolemn Oaths, [illegible] publick a manner as the Crimes have been [illegible] ted: but we muſt be at our Duty, keep a good [illegible] reſpondence with our Allies, look to the Succeſſion [illegible] of the Hanover Succeſſion more cloſely than [illegible] and leave the Event to the Divine Providence.
